(Some insight to this came from Council person Jane Gagliardo and this is a brief synopsis of what she spoke about: Ms. Gagliardo spoke about curb-flow studies that have been done since the pandemic in regard to parking all around the country in regard to the double-parking problems on Crystal Street. The studies do several things like crunch down on double parking, designated curb flow zones for a food runner, and/or designated spots for drivers to pick up food. Ms. Gagliardo suggested possibly doing a survey asking the businesses for what type of impact it would have on them.)
